

Partner Frequently Asked Questions

Q: How do I register my event to be part of Spike 150 directory of events?

A: Please register your event both at Spike 150 through our Partner submission form and with our event partner Now Playing Utah. Submitting your event at Spike 150 helps us to track of our 150 event goal. By submitting your event through www.nowplayingutah.com using the event tag “Golden Spike 150” it will be included in a statewide calendar of events throughout Utah. Posting your event on Now Playing Utah automatically adds it to the Spike150.org website. Click here to view a more detailed “How To” guide for posting events.

Q: Whom should I contact for support with statewide or national media requests?

A: Please forward any national or statewide media requests about Spike 150 or the anniversary event at Promontory Summit to Cindy Gubler at cindy@wfandco.com.

Q: How do I access Spike 150 logo and branding materials?

A: The Spike 150 logo, color palette, fonts, photography, and electronic media resources are available at www.spike150.org/media

Q: Where can I find community resources and information about the Transcontinental Railroad?

A: A list of resources including interactive websites, photographs, videos, historical documents and more is available at www.spike150.org/resources

Q: Are there Spike 150 branded marketing and promotional materials such as street banners, posters, and digital ads?

A: Yes, an online resource of ready-to-order promotional materials including street banners, lamppost banners, large format building banners, printing and social media ads, brochures, buttons, window clings, pull-up and large format display boards and street/sidewalk stencils will be available at the end of January at www.spike150.org/media/promo
